3. Danger vs. Reward: Increasing the variety of mines increases the prospective multiplier for each safe square exposed, however it concurrently increases the possibility of an immediate loss.

Common Grid Multiplier Logic

While each developer may modify their mathematical design, the following table shows the basic progression of threat in a 5x5 grid:

Number of Mines Multiplier per Safe Tile Difficulty Level 1 Mine 1.02 x - 1.05 x Really Easy 3 Mines 1.10 x - 1.15 x Easy 5 Mines 1.25 x - 1.35 x Moderate 10 Mines 1.80 x - 2.00 x Difficult 20 Mines 5.00 x+ Extreme

This removes the psychological temptation to "go one more tile" when the odds start turning versus them.

3. The Pattern Strategy

While the grid is randomized by software application, lots of players discover convenience in choosing specific patterns-- such as corners just, or a particular row-- to get rid of the "paralysis of choice." While this does not technically alter the chances, it assists in maintaining a disciplined betting structure.
